

What's Cookin' at MTI

January 11, @))* < you figure it out!

Happy New Years to all! It's going to be an exciting one to say the least. Shortly, Skills events will start and our MTI students have their buckets ready to fill with Gold medals. Quite a few of our Culinary students are competing this year in various events.

Short news letter this week because there's so much to do just getting back in the swing of things.

Mr. "C" says this week.....New skills, new knowledge, new opportunities, New Years is every new day!

below are some pictures of our weeks activities,

Mike Dixon hones his skills and his knife, and looks like someone got caught tasting icing!

Nik and Mo ham it up for the camera

Stephanie Myers is preparing a cake that will be going to a soldier for his going away party Saturday night. He will be returning to Iraq for his second tour. MTI was asked to make him a cake, so we did! To Stephanie it is a labor of love as she and Chef Nicole decorated it. We all wish Lt.Col. Hornberger well and return to us safe and sound. Thanks for all you, and the other soldiers do everyday!!!

I gotta run, turn off the lights in the big kitchen. To all have a great week-end and don't forget , Go cook sumthin'!

Bert Spagnola

*Chef Instructor
Manatee Technical Institute
941-751-7900 ext. 2038*