

WHAT'S COOKING AT MTI

January 19,2007

I guess it's official now, here's the scoop. The Commercial/ Culinary cooking SkillsUSA competition will be hosted here at MTI on February 8.

We expect a large turn out from various schools in the region. Of course our MTI high school students will be in the running too!

Chef Garry's class has successfully got their Bistro off and running and it's been great for the students as well as the faculty who have enjoyed the meals. By the way it is open for the public as well, so if anyone has the time call 751-7900 ext. 2113 to find out more information.

Below it looks like someone is starting the kitchen on fire.

Stephanie Myers "flaming" the chicken for Thursday's lunch, Who has this much fun at school or work?

Nick is working in the garde Manage Dept.

This is Erwin Sanchez, . a new student to us from Bayshore High School.

As a new student of only two weeks Irwin is off to a good start and a bright future!

Irwin came to visit MTI a few weeks ago, unsure of what career path he wanted to follow. He chose Culinary Arts.

Q.: When did you become interested in Culinary Arts?

A.: When I first walked into the class.

Q.:What do you enjoy most about the class?

A.: All the privileges and the people I work with.

Q.: What do you plan to do after you finish school?

A.: I would like to cook as a professional Chef.

That's it for this week as the lights are going out in the big kitchen. The only thing left is for Mr "C" to sock it to us! So this week Mr. "C" says, " Sharpen your knives and sharpen your skills; SkillsUSA is coming".

Ya'll have a great, safe weekend.....and go COOK SUMTHIN'!
